EARLY END

Of Border Power Is Now Promised—Secretary Lane Is Assured of Administration's Approval of Mexican Commission's Efforts.

Washington, November 19.—Armed with President Wilson's complete approval of his course, Secretary Lane will return to Atlantic City tomorrow determined to bring the sessions of the American-Mexican joint commission to an early conclusion. He is still hopeful that an agreement as to the border situation can be reached, but it was indicated clearly today in official circles that the joint conference is entering on its final phase, agreement or no agreement.

If the commissioners find it impossible to formulate a plan, the view taken here will be that the prospect of settling border disputes through diplomacy will be remote. Officials make no predictions, however, as to what steps the Washington Government might find it necessary to take in that event to insure the safety of border towns and ranches.

Commission Is Supported

Secretary Lane is understood to have found President Wilson, Secretary Lansing and Secretary Baker in full accord with him on every point when he laid before them last night in a three-hour conference at the White House a review of the efforts the American commissioners had made to reach a settlement. Every step proposed by Mr. Lane in behalf of his colleagues was approved by the President and the Secretary returned to his task backed by the unwavering support of the administration in whatever course has been mapped out.

It is an open secret that Luis Cabrera, Carranza Minister of Finance and president of the Mexican commission, has proved the stumbling block in the way of reaching an agreement. Commissioners Bonillas and Pani, it is said, have been ready to approve several different suggestions for co-operative action. Cabrera, however, held out for control of any point operation by a Mexican military commander, a concession the American commissioners did not feel warranted in making.

Double Patrol Probable

It is believed here that the American commissioners have now abandoned the effort to frame an agreement satisfactory to the Mexicans in every detail and will renew tomorrow their original suggestions that each Government patrol its own side of the line independently, but with the understanding that American troops will pursue into Mexico on a "hot trail" and bandits who attack border towns. Coupled with that suggestion, presumably, was the statement that General Pershing's forces would be withdrawn gradually from Mexico, and that no large force would be sent across the line again unless the de facto Government permitted raiders to assemble in such forces in Mexico that a strong expedition was necessary to prevent a serious attack.

Army officials believe that the American expeditionary force soon will be moving toward the border, regardless of the turn events may take at Atlantic City.

Americans Escape Parol

Official advices from the border today indicated that all of the Americans at Parral had made their escape and will soon arrive in Nogales, Ariz.

The advices indicate that the Villa forces are not in actual possession of Parral, Jimenez or any of the other towns in that region which border reports have said they control. The fate of the Chinese and other foreigners besides Americans in the vicinity where the bandits are active is not known definitely, and it is believed several Chinese might have been killed.

HOBSON PREDICTS GAIN FOR DRY IN HOUSE — BELIEVE OHIO WILL ENTER PROHIBITION RANKS.

Portsmouth, Ohio, November 19.—Captain Richmond P. Hobson addressed a meeting here today in the interest of the dry cause, advertised as the opening gun in Ohio for the cause of national prohibition. Judge A. Z. Blair presided.

Hobson predicted a gain for the drys in the complexion of the newly elected National House of Representatives, but did not claim the necessary two thirds vote for submission of the Hobson amendment. However, he asserted that 40 States Legislatures are dry and that the 34 states necessary to propose the amendment would be forthcoming should the next Congress fail to act. This would be the first time in the country's history, he said, a constitutional amendment had been so proposed. Failure of either method, the speaker said, would make national prohibition the paramount issue of the 1920 national campaign.

Both Hobson and Blair predicted Ohio would go dry next fall. Introducing Hobson, Judge Blair quoted twice from Sunday's Enquirer to prove his connection that the tendency of the times favors the dry cause. He alluded to Bryan's Indianapolis speech commending prohibition to the Democratic party, and again to The Enquirer's weekly Kentucky letter in which a wet and dry election is forecast for that state next year.

Hobson disagreed with the Bryan plan to have national prohibition come although espousal of the dry cause by the Democrats, but said it would be brought by joint action of the two older parties, two thirds of each of which he claimed are dry.

FLIGHT RECORD MADE BY WOMAN MISS RUTH LAW FLIES FROM CHICAGO TO HORNELL, N. Y., WITHOUT STOP

Binghamton, N. Y., November 19.—Attempting a non-stop flight from Chicago to New York, Miss Ruth Law, guiding a Curtiss biplane of the military scout type, shattered all American long distance aviation records for a single flight today, when she flew from Chicago to Hornell, N. Y., a distance by railroad of about 660 miles, bettering by about 100 miles the record made by Victor Carlstrom November 2.

A delayed start and a cross wind that cut down her speed and forced her to descend to replenish the gasoline supply, were responsible for her failure to reach New York City, Miss Law said after her arrival at Binghamton this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock. Previously today, Miss Law never made a single flight longer than twenty-five miles.

Miss Law covered a distance of about 785 miles in six hours and fifty minutes, time being deducted for the descent at Hornell. The first 662 miles, the distance by rail between Chicago and Hornell, was made without a stop.

Miss Law left Chicago at 8:25 o'clock this morning, Eastern time. At the outset of her flight a strong wind blew toward the East. Aided by this she made an average speed of 100 miles an hour at an altitude of about 6,000 feet. During the last 200 miles, before the stop at Hornell, a sharp cross wind blew, with the result that her gasoline tank was soon to empty. She glided into Hornell at 2:07 o'clock this afternoon.

After replenishing her supply of gasoline Miss Law flew the remaining 117 miles to Binghamton without mishap. Here darkness overtook her and she was forced to descend. She intends to continue to New York tomorrow morning, making the start at 7 o'clock.

Miss Law's experience has been gained wholly in short exhibition flights. Her flight today was held under the auspices of the Aero Club of America.

SECOND INAUGURATION WILL BE SIMPLE AFFAIR

Washington, November 19.—President Wilson's second inauguration probably will be a comparatively simple affair. While he has not discussed details with his advisers he is known to desire that there should be as little ceremony as possible.

It is accepted as certain by officials that there will be no inaugural ball, in spite of the hope of Washington citizens for such an event.

We had supposed the fly-swarming campaign of previous years tended to render anything of the sort now superfluous.

AUSTRIA DOUBTS

The Changes of Peace Overture—Vienna Interested, However, in Reports of Wilson Plan and Willing to Treat for Agreement—Entente Position Is Urged As Obstacle.

Vienna, November 17, via London, November 19.—Interest in the announcement received in Vienna that President Wilson intends to take concrete action in behalf of peace, continues unabated, though in many Austrian circles the view is held that the attitude of entente powers will render Mr. Wilson's good offices futile.

It is argued in government circles and in the press that so long as the entente nations adhere to the program recently reiterated by Premier Asquith and Viscount Grey, there is really no occasion for Austria-Hungary to show great intente government officials asserted that the war objectives were not discussable.

This aspect, it is pointed out in government circles, could be changed only by a readiness of the entente to proceed from a quite different base. With the entente willing to discuss peace on terms of the re-establishment of pre-war conditions, so modified as to take into account the Central Powers' interests that have suffered Austria-Hungary's attitude might be expected to change.

Intente Position Attacked

As the matter stands, certain government circles hold that little can be gained by declaring a readiness to meet the entente on a peace preliminary so long as the entente has failed to indicate that it would be content with much less than shown in the recent speeches made in London. It is felt by Austrian officials that the acceptance of an invitation for such a conference with the entente holding off for a program which is little short of the total annihilation of the Central Powers and their allies, would be equal to acknowledgment that the Central Powers were ready to secure peace on any terms.

While President Wilson's good intentions are not doubted in the least and while his offer might be accepted gladly, it is pointed out that the Entente Powers would gain undue and unjustified encouragement if Austria-Hungary were to pit its own modest claims against those of the Entente still seeking the dual monarchy's dismemberment.

There is no doubt in the minds of Austrians in a position to know that the Central Powers are ready for negotiations, but nothing short of the conditions outlined in the foregoing would induce them in the present military situation to join a conference such as is understood here to have been proposed by President Wilson.

The second installment of Austrian press comments mirrors this strongly.

Report Unfounded

Washington, November 19.—It is assumed in official circles here that Austrian discussion of the prospects of peace by President Wilson is based upon some unfounded rumor reaching Vienna or upon a misinterpretation of one of the President's speeches during the campaign advocating a world league for peace to make another such war as that now raging in Europe impossible.

The President, it is understood, has not changed his opinion that any action by him, at the present stage of the European conflict would be ill-timed and futile unless the belligerent nations indicated that it would be welcomed and it is stated authoritatively that no immediate step is in contemplation.

BRYAN SAYS HE IS NOT YET DEAD POLITICALLY

Indianapolis, Ind., November 19.—William Jennings Bryan in addressing the National W. C. T. U. convention here today, said he was not dead politically, but asserted he is "in politics with both feet." He said he was in favor of national prohibition.

"I love my party, and because of my love for it, hope and feel that it will be a 'dry' Democracy," said Mr. Bryan. He said further that in spite of his desire to see national prohibition come through Democratic influence, his prayers for a saloonless nation extended beyond party lines and that he would not necessarily await the triumph of the prohibition cause through the Democratic party, but would welcome a dry nation through the Republican party. He also asserted the trend of circumstances of the last few years were such that he was hopeful of a constitutional amendment perhaps as soon as 1920.

The convention sermon was delivered in the afternoon by Mrs. Stella E. Irvine, of Riverside, Cal., who asserted the liquor traffic is doomed.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS URGED BY CALEB POWERS TO TAKE STAND FOR PROHIBITION

Washington, November 19.—In a statement given out here today Representative Caleb Powers, of Kentucky, who was re-elected to Congress November 7, calls upon the Republicans of that state to make statewide prohibition their rallying cry in next year's campaign.

The statement is as follows: "There is a fight to the death in the Democratic party in Kentucky between the wet and the dry forces. The Republicans cannot afford to take the immoral side of a moral issue. The race for United States Senator takes place in Kentucky next year. If the Republicans next spring, in their State convention, will take a stand for statewide prohibition, and if a United States Senator is nominated thereon, the Republicans ought to carry the State next fall. I base this conclusion on the idea that the machinery of the Democratic party in the state is doubtless will nominate a wet candidate for the United States Senate."

E. P. Morrow, of Somerset, who made the race for Governor against A. O. Stanley, is being mentioned for the Senator nomination, but it is probable he will run again for Governor, as the general opinion among Kentucky Republican leaders is that he is most available for that race.

SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, constipation, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

IN OUR great-great-grandfathers' time many New England families had a cask of rum in the cellar.

It was freely offered to guests (except children) and freely partaken of, even as coffee is today.

This old-time custom gradually passed out of existence, for our forefathers recognized it was harmful.

Another old-time custom—coffee drinking—is slowly passing in the same fashion and for the same reason.

The abandonment of coffee drinking is made easy nowadays by the use of Instant Postum, the pure cereal beverage with the coffee-like taste.

Unlike coffee, this purely American table drink contains no "caffeine" or other harmful substance.

Postum is now used daily in tens of thousands of the best of American homes where reason rules and health is valued.
